Welcome to the Lakeland Awnings Canopies range

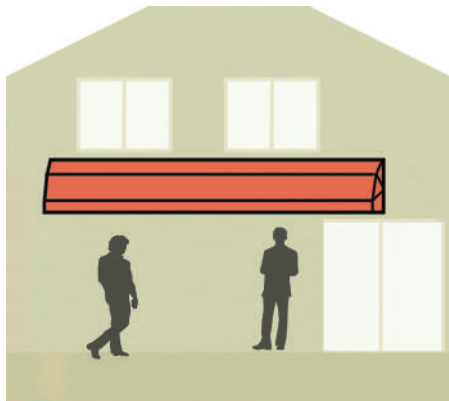

Canopies come in a range of shapes and sizes; they can be either retractable or rigid, dependant on style and size. A retractable Dutch Blind is generally operated by a cord and pulley system secured to a cleat.

The framework is constructed from a silver anodised aluminium extrusion (which can also be powder coated in different colours). Canopies can give any project a strong contemporary or traditional visual appearance, canopies are bound to increase awareness of your business. They also afford protection for your customers from inclement weather or the sun.

Canopies can also be sign written to suit your requirements.
